1. The applicant is hereby notified that this International Preliminary Examining Authority transmits herewith the international preliminary report on patentability and its annexes, if any, established on the international application.
2. A copy of the report and its annexes, if any, is being transmitted to the International Bureau for communication to all the elected Offices.
3. Where required by any of the elected Offices, the International Bureau will prepare an English translation of the report (but not of any annexes) and will transmit such translation to those Offices.

4. REMINDER

The applicant must enter the national phase before each elected Office by performing certain acts (filing translations and paying national fees) within 30 months from the priority date (or later in some Offices) (Article 39(1)) (see also the reminder sent by the International Bureau with Form PCT/IB/301).

Where a translation of the international application must be furnished to an elected Office, that translation must contain a translation of any annexes to the international preliminary report on patentability. It is the applicant's responsibility to prepare and furnish such translation directly to each elected Office concerned.

For further details on the applicable time limits and requirements of the elected Offices, see Volume II of the PCT Applicant's Guide.

The applicant's attention is drawn to Article 33(5), which provides that the criteria of novelty, inventive step and industrial applicability described in Article 33(2) to (4) merely serve the purposes of international preliminary examination and that "any Contracting State may apply additional or different criteria for the purposes of deciding whether, in that State, the claimed inventions is patentable or not" (see also Article 27(5)). Such additional criteria may relate, for example, to exemptions from patentability, requirements for enabling disclosure, clarity and support for the claims.

Box No. III Non-establishment of opinion with regard to novelty, inventive step and industrial applicability

1. The questions whether the claimed invention appears to be novel, to involve an inventive step (to be non-obvious), or to be industrially applicable have not been examined in respect of:

☐ the entire international application,

☒ claims Nos. 1(partially), 14

because:

☐ the said international application, or the said claims Nos. relate to the following subject matter which does not require an international preliminary examination (specify):

☐ the description, claims or drawings (indicate particular elements below) or said claims Nos. are so unclear that no meaningful opinion could be formed (specify):

☐ the claims, or said claims Nos. are so inadequately supported by the description that no meaningful opinion could be formed.

☒ no international search report has been established for the said claims Nos. 1(partially), 14

☐ the nucleotide and/or amino acid sequence listing does not comply with the standard provided for in Annex C of the Administrative Instructions in that:

the written form

☐ has not been furnished

☐ does not comply with the standard

the computer readable form

☐ has not been furnished

☐ does not comply with the standard

☐ the tables related to the nucleotide and/or amino acid sequence listing, if in computer readable form only, do not comply with the technical requirements provided for in Annex C-bis of the Administrative Instructions.

☒ See separate sheet for further details

Re Item III.

Rule 6.2 (a) PCT

The application does not meet the requirements of Rule 6.2 (a) PCT because claim 14 refers to the figures. Therefore neither search nor examination has been performed regarding said claim 14.

Clarity - Article 6 PCT

The application does not meet the requirements of Article 6 PCT because claim 1 is not clear. Claim 1 does not meet the requirements of Article 6 PCT in that the matter for which protection is sought is not clearly defined. By using the wording "characterised in that the lateral migration of ions proceeding from said thermostating fluid inside said ion-exchange membranes is prevented", said claim 1 attempts to define the subject-matter in terms of the result to be achieved, which merely amounts to a statement of the underlying problem, without providing the technical features necessary for achieving this result.

Therefore the search has been carried out on a stack consisting of a filter-press modular arrangement comprising a multiplicity of single proton exchange membrane fuel cells and of cooling devices, each cell being delimited by a pair of metal bipolar plates and comprising ion-exchange membranes and perimetrical sealing gaskets shaped as frames suitable for housing current collectors within their hollow central part, the bipolar plates and the gaskets being provided with passage openings comprising holes for feeding the reactant gases, for extracting the residual gases with the reaction products, for injecting and discharging a thermostating fluid.

Therefore the examination has been restricted as well.

Re Item V.

Reference is made to the following documents:

D1 : EP 0 629 015 A (DE NORA PERMELEC S.P.A; NUVERA FUEL CELLS EUROPE S.R.L) 14 December 1994 (1994-12-14)

1. Novelty - Article 33(2) PCT

The present application does not meet the criteria of Article 33(1) PCT, because the

INTERNATIONAL PRELIMINARY REPORT ON PATENTABILITY
(SEPARATE SHEET)

International application No.

PCT/EP2004/011568

subject-matter of claim 1 is not new in the sense of Article 33(2) PCT.

Document D1 discloses (the references in parentheses applying to this document):

Stack consisting of a filter-press modular arrangement comprising a multiplicity of single proton exchange membrane fuel cells and of cooling devices, each cell being delimited by a pair of metal bipolar plates and comprising ion- exchange membranes and perimetrical sealing gaskets shaped as frames suitable for housing current collectors within their hollow central part, the bipolar plates and the gaskets being provided with passage openings comprising holes for feeding the reactant gases, for extracting the residual gases with the reaction products, for injecting and discharging a thermostating fluid (see page 5, lines 5-12, 43-47 and figures 1 and 4).

The combination of the features of claims 2 to 13 are neither known from, nor rendered obvious by, the available prior art. Therefore said claims meet the requirements of the PCT in respect of novelty and inventive step.

2. Industrial applicability - Article 33(4) PCT

The subject-matter of claims 2 to 13 is industrially applicable. Therefore said claims meet the requirements of Article 33(4) PCT.
